

RESILIENCE BY DESIGN

ARCASIA STUDENTS' ARCHITECTURAL DESIGN COMPETITION 2020

INTRODUCTION

The Architects' Regional Council Asia (ARCASIA) is a Council of the presidents of the National Institutes of Architects of 21 Asian countries that are members of ARCASIA.

Due to unprecedented Covid19 Pandemic situation, this year ARCASIA has decided to organize an Online Design Competition among the individual students of ARCASIA member countries. This ARCASIA Students' Architectural Design Competition 2020 is organized by the ARCASIA Committee on Architectural Education (ACAE) Secretariat.

OBJECTIVE

The objective of the ARCASIA Students' Architectural Design Competition is to provide an arena for students from ARCASIA Member Institutes to participate in ARCASIA activities. It is an opportunity for students from different cultures to exchange and share idea on particular design issue that is raised by ARCASIA every year.

COMPETITION THEME

"RESILIENCE BY DESIGN". The current pandemic has highlighted social inequities. Some are social, cultural; some are spatial, territorial; some are environmental and so on. COVID-19 has taught us about how cities/neighborhood/spaces need to plan, build and design differently in the future. What social resiliency means in the context of a Pandemic and Public Health Crisis. The student is to identify a Public Space in neighborhood/City/Local Area like Park, Central Courts/ Street Corners/ Waterfronts/ Piazza/ Streets, or any such Public Place – Open or Covered, and to design, redesign, reinvent, recreate that place attempting to find Resilience keeping in mind this New Normal Situation post COVID-19 Pandemic.

One should venture beyond the ordinary boundaries of Architecture - not only be aware of one's surroundings and events but also attempt to seek answers. The project should show us how "an Architect" can bring about a "Resolution" in a "Resilience", and demonstrate the architect's role as a thinker, a reformer, an activist, and a visionary.
